

Business Travel and Expense Policy

Version 1.0 | Fictional training policy | Owner: Finance

This document is a realistic training corpus for AI retrieval and compliance workflow testing. It is not a real company policy, legal advice, or regulatory guidance.

1. Purpose and scope

Policy rule. This policy governs reasonable, necessary, documented business expenses incurred by employees and approved contractors.

How to comply. Employees must use the approved company process, retain required records, and ask the policy owner before acting when the circumstances are unclear.

Limitations and approvals. A manager approval does not override security, privacy, finance, legal, or local employment requirements. Higher-risk exceptions must be documented before the action is taken.

Common enterprise question. If a request involves customer data, payment, international activity, an external vendor, or a personal device, pause and obtain the required review before proceeding.

2. Business purpose

Policy rule. Every expense claim must state a clear business purpose, date, amount, currency, and attendees where relevant.

How to comply. Employees must use the approved company process, retain required records, and ask the policy owner before acting when the circumstances are unclear.

Limitations and approvals. A manager approval does not override security, privacy, finance, legal, or local employment requirements. Higher-risk exceptions must be documented before the action is taken.

Common enterprise question. If a request involves customer data, payment, international activity, an external vendor, or a personal device, pause and obtain the required review before proceeding.

3. Pre-approval

Policy rule. Employees must obtain required travel, event, high-value purchase, and exception approvals before incurring the expense.

How to comply. Employees must use the approved company process, retain required records, and ask the policy owner before acting when the circumstances are unclear.

Limitations and approvals. A manager approval does not override security, privacy, finance, legal, or local employment requirements. Higher-risk exceptions must be documented before the action is taken.

Common enterprise question. If a request involves customer data, payment, international activity, an external vendor, or a personal device, pause and obtain the required review before proceeding.

4. Receipts

Policy rule. An itemized receipt is required for any expense of EUR 25 or more unless it is genuinely unavailable and the manager approves the explanation.

How to comply. Employees must use the approved company process, retain required records, and ask the policy owner before acting when the circumstances are unclear.

Limitations and approvals. A manager approval does not override security, privacy, finance, legal, or local employment requirements. Higher-risk exceptions must be documented before the action is taken.

Common enterprise question. If a request involves customer data, payment, international activity, an external vendor, or a personal device, pause and obtain the required review before proceeding.

5. Expense deadlines

Policy rule. Expense reports should be submitted within 30 days of the expense date unless a local rule requires a shorter period.

How to comply. Employees must use the approved company process, retain required records, and ask the policy owner before acting when the circumstances are unclear.

Limitations and approvals. A manager approval does not override security, privacy, finance, legal, or local employment requirements. Higher-risk exceptions must be documented before the action is taken.

Common enterprise question. If a request involves customer data, payment, international activity, an external vendor, or a personal device, pause and obtain the required review before proceeding.

6. Travel booking

Policy rule. Business travel must be booked through approved channels unless an exception is documented and approved.

How to comply. Employees must use the approved company process, retain required records, and ask the policy owner before acting when the circumstances are unclear.

Limitations and approvals. A manager approval does not override security, privacy, finance, legal, or local employment requirements. Higher-risk exceptions must be documented before the action is taken.

Common enterprise question. If a request involves customer data, payment, international activity, an external vendor, or a personal device, pause and obtain the required review before proceeding.

7. Air travel

Policy rule. Economy class is required for flights under six hours; premium travel requires documented business need and advance approval.

How to comply. Employees must use the approved company process, retain required records, and ask the policy owner before acting when the circumstances are unclear.

Limitations and approvals. A manager approval does not override security, privacy, finance, legal, or local employment requirements. Higher-risk exceptions must be documented before the action is taken.

Common enterprise question. If a request involves customer data, payment, international activity, an external vendor, or a personal device, pause and obtain the required review before proceeding.

8. Hotel stays

Policy rule. Employees must choose reasonably priced, safe accommodation near the business location and use negotiated rates where available.

How to comply. Employees must use the approved company process, retain required records, and ask the policy owner before acting when the circumstances are unclear.

Limitations and approvals. A manager approval does not override security, privacy, finance, legal, or local employment requirements. Higher-risk exceptions must be documented before the action is taken.

Common enterprise question. If a request involves customer data, payment, international activity, an external vendor, or a personal device, pause and obtain the required review before proceeding.

9. Meals

Policy rule. Reasonable business meals are reimbursable when a business purpose and attendee details are provided.

How to comply. Employees must use the approved company process, retain required records, and ask the policy owner before acting when the circumstances are unclear.
